Notes:
- (a) The Bureau of the Census establishes industries using the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS).
- (b) The total number of firms and industries includes those which reported any of the five listed energy-saving technologies in use anywhere in 2010, plus those with whose usage of those energy-saving technologies was not reported or ascertained.
- (c) Some examples are space heating/cooling equipment, lighting, and fans.
- (d) Some examples are ballasts, fans, and conveyors used in the manufacturing process.
